Barcelona, June 2, 2026. – The International Logistics Exhibition (SIL Barcelona 2026), organised by the Consorci de la Zona Franca de Barcelona (CZFB), will open its doors tomorrow at Fira de Barcelona (Montjuïc venue) to celebrate its 28th edition, bringing together companies, experts and professionals from across the global supply chain. Over three days, from June 3rd to 5th, SIL will once again position Barcelona as one of the leading international logistics hubs and as a key forum to analyse the sector's challenges and opportunities in a context shaped by technological transformation, sustainability and geopolitics.

The opening ceremony, which will take place tomorrow at 10:00 a.m. in Hall 8 at Fira de Barcelona's Montjuïc–Plaza España venue (CZFB Stand), will be attended by the Secretary of State for Transport and Sustainable Mobility, José Antonio Santano; the Secretary for Business and Competitiveness of the Government of Catalonia, Jaume Baró; the Deputy Mayor of the Barcelona City Council, Jordi Valls; the Executive President of the Consorci de la Zona Franca de Barcelona (CZFB) and of SIL, Pere Navarro; and the Director General of CZFB and SIL, Blanca Sorigué.

An international event with strong business participation

This new edition will gather more than 600 companies and over 15,000 visitors, as well as more than 250 speakers and an extensive programme of activities, including more than 150 professional events and high-value networking spaces.

Pere Navarro, Special State Delegate at CZFB and President of SIL, highlights SIL's role as a “benchmark international trade fair that has become a global launch platform for many companies in the sector. This year, participating companies will present more than 160 innovations exclusively at world level.” He also stressed that “the logistics sector is highly dynamic, characterised by its ability to connect people, companies and talent, and to generate major opportunities.”

SIL will focus on the main trends transforming the logistics sector, such as artificial intelligence, big data, IoT and blockchain, with more than 160 innovations presented exclusively worldwide. Among the key new features is the SIL Lab space, dedicated to innovation and talent, as well as the participation of around 80 startups showcasing solutions in the field of logistics 4.0.

Additionally, the SIL Knowledge congress will bring together international experts to address key topics such as sustainability, supply chain digitalisation and the impact of geopolitics on global logistics flows.

“SIL is a global meeting point for innovation and development in the supply chain,” says Blanca Sorigué, General Director of CZFB and SIL. “From June 3rd to 5th, with the celebration of SIL, Barcelona will once again become the world capital of logistics. This year we have the presence of international companies from more than 80 countries, together with the latest in logistics innovation, top-level networking, activities and conferences addressing globally relevant topics in the logistics field.”

Tomorrow's official opening will mark the start of three intense days of business activity, networking and sector debate.
